Summary

University student with high motivation to learn and explore new things. In the past, made some modifications for various applications (mostly for games such as half-life 2) which gave me experience with tools like Source SDK, Hammer Editor and Lua. Since I started modding I knew that I wanted to eventually create my own applications on a professional levels. Currently studying a Computer Games Development degree with a heavy emphasis on programming languages such as: C++, C#, Java, HTML, PHP and JavaScript.
